With the arrival of 2018 bringing freezing weather to many parts of the country, we are filling up fast!

We're looking forward to another great Winter season as more and more folks discover the advantages of the magnificent desert weather here, combined with a multitude of activities, both on the park and in the surrounding communities.

Our Christmas party wrapped up a record year for us. We've made a tradition of decorating the clubhouse while trimming the Christmas tree and enjoying a feast of snacks, drinks and December was like a winter wonderland for all of us as a rare (for us) seven-inch snowfall occurred on December 8.

Rian and Winston had snowball fights, made snow angels and I even made a little snowman. Everyone enjoyed the snow for several days! Santa stopped by a few days before Christmas to check out the park and see who was camping before he returned to the North Pole to prepare for his Christmas eve journey. The Myers family had their sites decorated with lights and a Christmas tree and were all sporting matching camping shirts. The Lightells also

Last Winter we were able to have a half dozen campfires so people could get together and see how everyone is doing and talk about the campground and family. Nice seeing those that come out. I plan on having more fires, weather permitting, this winter and I'll post it on Facebook. I sure hope the white stuff stays away.

Electrical work has been a little slow due to the weather and a desserts. As you can see, no one went hungry and everyone had a good time eating, decorating and just generally enjoying each other's company!

Our Christmas party/decorating group

At the Cathedral City Civic Center, just a short walk from the park, a new event began this year and from the looks of it it's going to make a great holiday tradition here. There was a gigantic tree, food vendors and entertainment by kids from local schools.

The next big event in the area is the Palm Springs International Film Festival, one of the largest film festivals in North America, welcoming over 135,000 attendees each year for its lineup of new and celebrated international features and documentaries. The Festival offers 14 days of events and film screenings featuring over 180 films.

Of course, our Saturday night campfires, featuring free pizza on the first of each month, then potlucks on the following Saturdays, remain a big hit. Sponsored by Mike Thompson's RV Superstores, this event just keeps getting better. We also have Cheeseburgers for lunch on Fridays, coffee and I'm looking for local contractors in our area to build the new office/living quarters. If you know of any that would be willing to take on the task, have them call the office.
