Labor Day has now come and gone, marking the end of another Summer and we look forward to giving our air conditioners a rest!

We have had more than our fair share of rain this spring and summer season; the most rain I can ever remember.

Rain, rain and more rain makes mowing the grounds and working

August was a very busy and beautiful month, with weather that was just about perfect most evenings to enjoy life around a campfire.

Most of our weekends were near capacity as many families came to enjoy all our park has to offer. Even Santa could not stay away! The children enjoyed seeing and the old, very fragile pedestals that have been a maintenance headache for several years. It's a real step forward in upgrading the utilities on the park.

As many of you know, Palm Springs is known for Modernism Week, when the classic history of the area is on display. During the Fall Preview, you'll be able to enjoy the new "Cul-de-Sac Experience."

Take one tarp, add water and a slope and presto, you have a slip 'n slide speaking with Santa and having him accompany them on a hayride. Gourmet marshmallows and iced hot chocolate made for a perfect day.

Hawaiian Luau weekend had the children competing in the hula hoop and limbo contests. They enjoyed the limbo so much they did it again. There was a great deal of laughing and helping going on with the bigger kids instructing and watching out for the smaller ones. That evening we enjoyed the luau as families gathered for a great meal and friendship while we listened to Hawaiian Music.

Santa dropped by for an early visit

Yard twister

New events were added this year that everyone enjoyed. A very large tarp was purchased and made into a slip 'n slide. The children were lined up and raring to go...never wanting it to stop. Yard twister had them all in a pretzel; stretching, laughing, and falling. Softball and kick ball were so popular that we had enough people to field two teams. And then there is always the music and dancing in the evenings.

If you have been putting off making your reservations to camp, please call now. We have some availability on the second, third and fourth weekends of September but are nearly full the last weekend in September and first two weekends in October – our Halloween weekends. After Halloween, it is just plain camping. Does it get any better than that?
